

I-46 TEACHING METHODS

The Plainfield Community School Corporation is not committed to any single method of teaching. Teachers are expected to make their own contribution in a manner most effective for them. Successful teaching manifests itself in the growth and development of students. Such teaching safeguards the personal integrity and emotional stability of the student.

New teaching techniques are encouraged if they are based upon sound research findings and have the approval of the principal.

Each teacher is responsible for making his or her own weekly lesson plans, following the suggestions as outlined by the curriculum guides -- locally adopted or suggested by the Department of Education. Principals are to ensure that such plans are current and available for substitute teachers.

Teachers are urged to plan in terms of the reporting period and for the semester.
